PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Med Flight

March 2018 – Present

I function as an emergency medical helicopter nurse. I am cross trained with paramedic skills and work off protocols for treatment and care of patients. I am a member of a three-person team with a paramedic and pilot. I can see the full spectrum of emergency medical patients both prehospital and hospital, which requires a wide range of skills and continued training.

Care Link

October 2015 – March 2018

As a Critical Care Transport Nurse, I cared for patients of all ages and acuity levels. I functioned as a charge nurse, preceptor, and competency skills evaluator. As co-chair of our Shared Governance Committee I was a part of a group working on policy revision and new policy implementation.

Community Care of Southern Piedmont

July 2014 – October 2015

As a Nurse Care Manager, I worked with three primary care practices. I followed up with their patients after a hospital admission or emergency department visit to make sure they understood their discharge instructions and had the resources they needed.

Wake Forest Baptist Health – High Point

August 2010 – July 2014

Working as a Critical Care Transport Nurse gave me transport experience with trauma, pediatric, cardiac, neuro, and obstetric patients. I worked as a preceptor, evaluated patient care related to the RACE/STEMI program, and assisted with the Chest Pain accreditation process. I worked as a nurse resource in the Emergency Department and continued to develop my skills as an Emergency Department nurse.

Novant Health – Rowan 2011

April 2009 – April

As an Intensive Care Nurse, I worked with patients that required mechanical ventilation, invasive monitoring, hypothermic therapy, and a variety of IV medications and treatments.

Wake Forest Baptist Health – High Point

May 2006 – April 2009

I started out as an Emergency Department Nurse before being recruited onto the Critical Care Transport Team.

Atrium Health – Stanly

February 2005 – May 2006

I worked as an Emergency Department Nurse caring for a variety of different age groups and acuity levels.
